Urgent appeal for COPE

The Cambridgeshire Older People's Enterprise, established for the wellbeing, interests and needs of older people in Cambridgeshire is currently facing financial difficulties.

Cambridge City and the County Council, which provided much of the funding has had its capacity seriously reduced, requiring Cope to do a great deal of research to identify alternative support. A one-off grant from the National Lottery provided support for their newsletter for two years and applications are now being made for various funds for the costs of the newsletter and office rental, their largest budget items. However, those sources, available for the Charity, appear limited.

Fortunately members have made donations allowing them to continue its work at the moment.

Of necessity, the COPE trustees have had to consider issuing the Newsletter quarterly and as a last resort, to charge an annual membership fee.

You can help . . .

A fun and effective way to support them is to buy a Cambridgeshire Community Lottery draw ticket.

- For just £1 a week, you can support COPE and get entered into a weekly draw with prizes up to £25,000

50p from every ticket will support COPE and another 10p will support other good causes across the County. Players have a 1 in 50 chance of winning a prize each week, with a top prize of £25,000.

Baby loss commemorated

Until 2024, our town had nothing to commemorate Baby Loss Awareness Week, and as a mother who has miscarried a child, and having surveyed local mums who said they couldn't drive miles to another town for baby loss week, Laura Thompson felt she just had to do something to remember these beautiful babies.

So single-handedly she organised our town's first ever baby loss memorial ribbon display, with over 60 babies remembered - the oldest ones were from 1975 and the youngest lost that very week.

This is the third year running St Ives has commemorated Baby Loss Awareness Week. Like the last two years, local businesses came together to do a lovely pink and blue display in their shop windows, with some shops and pubs lighting up their own buildings as well.

The St Ives Town Bridge was also lit up pink and blue for the whole week (9th - 15th October) and pictured below is the High Sheriff of Cambridgeshire Mr Francis Burkitt DL with Councillor Laura Thompson and St Ives Town Mayor, Councillor Alex Thompson.

Just two more Chapel Arts Concerts this year and they feature two of our most popular bands.

The Old Riverport Ukulele Festival

Special, friendly and inclusive

St Ives Corn Exchange was the venue for the 6th annual Old Riverport Ukulele Festival organised by St Ives Town Team. Over 200 players came from around the region for a day of strumming.

Fourteen groups from Kings Lynn, Corby, Haverhill, Huntingdon, Ramsey, Hitchin, Market Harborough, St Neots, March and of course St Ives each performed five songs on the stage.

The doors opened at 9am and the days programme included a workshop with professional performer Gabriela. Her well received class titled 'OH NO!' TO 'ENCORE!' was designed to give a confidence boost for all levels of players.

Gabriela also performed her routine on the main stage, including George Formby's 'When I'm Cleaning Windows', before the best dressed costume prize was voted for and the raffle winner was picked. All in all it was another great Festival, which Gabriela described as a really special, friendly and inclusive event.

Supporting Families affected by childhood cancer in Cambridgeshire

Thrive Foundation is a local charity providing free support to families in Cambridgeshire where a child or young person aged up to 21 has been affected by childhood cancer, whether they are currently undergoing treatment or living beyond it.

One of the charity's key services is its mental health grant programme, available nationwide to parents, siblings, grandparents and other family members. The grants help families access counselling, psychotherapy, play therapy and other accredited therapeutic support, with Thrive funding the sessions directly through the chosen therapist.

The charity also runs a monthly face-to-face support group for parents and carers on the first Tuesday of each month in the Huntingdon area.

The adults-only group provides a safe, compassionate space where people can connect with others who truly understand the challenges of childhood cancer.

Thanks to a National Lottery Awards for All grant, Thrive Foundation will soon be launching free family events and days out, helping families build friendships, reduce isolation and create positive memories together.

Alongside its support services, Thrive Foundation is committed to raising awareness of childhood cancer and educating both the public and professionals about the impact of a diagnosis on the whole family, while highlighting advances in kinder, innovative treatments such as cell and gene therapies.

Passengers urged to shine phone screens at bus stop to attract the drivers' attention

Cambridgeshire bus operator, Stagecoach East, has urged passengers to make themselves visible at bus stops – particularly as the mornings and evenings become darker – to make sure that Bus Drivers can see them.

Managing Director, Darren Roe urged passengers to 'give drivers a helping hand' by lighting up their phone screen at the stop so they can be seen from a distance. At this time of year, being visible is essential to ensure that boarding can take place as quickly and safely as possible, so, in addition to wearing bright clothing, Darren gave four points to remember:

- Shine your screen - wake up your phone and show a bright screen toward the oncoming traffic.
- Avoid torches - do not use a bright flashlight or torch feature, as it can blind or distract the driver.
- Aim low - point the screen light downward toward the road rather than straight at the driver's eyes.
- Stand to be seen – stand back from the edge of the pavement and stick your arm out, holding your phone

Darren continued, 'It is often not straightforward for a Driver to see who is waiting at a stop for the bus, or just standing close to it, and, of course, they do not want to delay their other passengers by stopping unnecessarily. We train our Drivers to use their observation skills as best as possible, particularly as the mornings and evenings become darker'.

It's important to live your life your way

At Care UK's Field Lodge in St Ives, every resident is supported to live their life the way they choose. Our experienced team takes pride in offering quality residential, nursing, dementia and respite care.

Elvina, a Care UK care home resident, shares how the care home's dedicated colleagues help to tailor her experience to her needs and wishes.

'I believe utterly in them'

Elvina first became aware of her local Care UK care home when her late husband Bill moved in. 'The team were so kind to him, and he thought it was wonderful here,' she explains. 'It was such a relief to get him somewhere where I thought, 'he's safe, he's being looked after'.

She joined Bill in the home after many happy visits enjoying activities and lunch together, and the pair shared a couples' suite. 'That was an absolute delight. We could snuggle down in our own place if we wanted to, or if we had something we were bursting to tell the other person they were just through their door!'

Elvina's husband sadly passed away, but she continues to feel comfort, reassurance and kindness from the team. Elvina says, 'I believe utterly in them and all they did for Bill.'

Highly trained teams offer a unique, tailored lifestyle

With the support of the care home team, Elvina continues to forge friendships with other residents and be actively involved in her local community. 'I love people. I love helping where I can,' she explains.

Care UK teams are trained to get to know everything they can about each resident, so that they can make every aspect of their time enjoyable and meaningful. Knowing that Elvina is a former drama and English literature teacher - as well as a pantomime writer - the team went above and beyond to help her put on a pantomime in the home with a local school. 'The children loved it,' she says.

The pantomime also brought back happy memories for Elvina, who remembers enjoying shows with her mum and brother. 'It was wonderful, absolutely wonderful!'

Trust us to care

We work hard to support residents to keep connected with their loved ones. We help families and friends to continue sharing special experiences whether that's in the home, through special trips and outings, or maximising technology so that distance is no longer an issue.

Care UK is a leading independent care home provider with some of the highest quality ratings of the UK's larger care providers, and over 40 years' experience of delivering high-quality care to older people.

ACTION FOR II-I2 THE PAVEMENT
- A Fortnightly update

Following on from our articles in Riverporter 214 on 7 August about the delay in getting the old Barclays bank building underway, we have decided to give readers a regular update on the project. Back in August The Riverporter was told by the contractor that work would begin in the next four weeks. Clearly that hasn't happened.

What has happened is that HDC's Building Control inspected the site in August, but didn't think it important to tell anyone. Possibly because scaffolding safety is outside their remit and they can't assure St Ives residents of its safety. With multiple authorities avoiding responsibility, the campaign demanded coordinated action.

Cambs County Council Street Works responded constructively and are liaising with the Health and Safety Executive. The contractors have again said work is planned to start 'within the month'.

Huntingdonshire District Council is now in breach of statutory law, having failed to respond to the FOI request within the 20 working day deadline (which expired on Tuesday 22 September). HDC's Planners have agreed to provide regular progress updates, with the next update due by 6 November. Let's keep our fingers crossed!

More fun at the seaside

On Monday five councillors resigned at Whitby Town Council following an internal investigation commissioned by Whitby Town Clerk Ryan Fuller.

Since he left St Ives in 2022 Mr Fuller seems to be embroiled in controversy wherever he goes and The Riverporter is now being mentioned in despatches.

The latest mention is in the minutes of Kents Hill & Monkston Parish Council when a councillor there, also subject to an investigation, appealed using extracts from The Riverporter to highlight Mr Fullers dubious conduct while he was clerk there.

The appeal failed as the report said that the extracts were an individual's opinion of the character of the Clerk's behaviour and not known facts and related to events pre- and post- his employment at Kents Hill.

It is true that this paper has featured opinions of Mr Fuller, mainly because he held very important public positions and that many people's 'opinion' was that his behaviour left a lot to be desired.

In RP209 we printed (page5) an anonymous letter sent to Whitby councillors advising them not to appoint Mr Fuller. Despite The Riverporter having nothing to do with the letter it would appear that Mr Fuller thinks the Editor is the culprit.

He has told Whitby councillors so and has claimed that '[the Editor] became fixated upon me and I had to report [him] to the police who treated the matter as one involving stalking and harassment'.

Should any Councillors from Whitby read this they should know that:

IT IS NOT TRUE, IT NEVER HAPPENED.

This week a message from a resident of Godmanchester appeared on the

Whitby Community Forum Facebook page

It was too rude for us to print but suggested Whitby should not employ Mr Fuller.

Whatever your opinion is of Ryan Fuller the evidence is that he is divisive and surely everyone else cannot be wrong - can they?

Plans for swimming pool refused

Huntingdonshire District Council has rejected plans to turn an industrial unit in Bramley Road into a community swimming pool. Despite backing from education, health and swimming groups the plans by Splash and Learn Swim School have been refused by Huntingdonshire District Council due to insufficient parking.

Established for 12+ years, Splash and Learn Swim School's indoor facility would have been for swimming tuition, water safety, rehabilitation, and wellbeing.

Bus drivers go above and beyond

To coincide with National Customer Service Week Cambridgeshire bus operator, Stagecoach East has told some of the stories of members of their team who go 'above and beyond' in offering exceptional customer service.

Darren Roe (below), Managing Director of Stagecoach East, said: 'As professionals running a service that connects people, we are very aware that we are at the heart of our communities and that we must always behave in a professional manner.

'But sometimes our colleagues go above and beyond, and it is good to recognise that fact. From helping someone having a seizure to simply being consistently thoughtful, it is good to recognise outstanding service.'

One passenger said of their driver: 'The driver on this bus was fantastic. There was a teenage girl, lost, missed her stop. The driver was concerned for her welfare. Spoke to everyone on the bus to ensure they were happy that he comforted the girl, ensure her phone was charged and that her parents were contacted. Everyone was impressed.

Another said: 'As we started our journey, there was a man who flagged the bus down as there was a lady having a seizure and he couldn't call the emergency services as he didn't have charge on his phone. So the bus driver very kindly stopped to help the lady and allowed passengers to help as well. He was very patient and truly showed how compassionate he is. He is a credit to the Stagecoach team. I will definitely be using the bus again in the future.'

Meanwhile, another said: 'Our driver had exceptional customer service skills. He interacted in a very friendly manner to each passenger as they bought tickets and was very good with making young children feel welcome onboard through interacting in a warm manner. Also he was very kind towards a wheelchair user and helped her to feel at ease by reassuring her to not rush.'

A fellow road-user added:

'As a horse rider, we regularly come across the number 28 bus. I want to express huge thanks to the drivers of this route.

Without exception, when we have met a bus, the drivers have been incredibly careful and considerate, slowing down, passing wide and often stopping while we find a spot to come off the road.

It really makes seeing a big scary bus so much safer and enjoyable!'

National Customer Service Week ran from Monday 5th to Friday 9th October.
